CURVE Sports + Diamond Sports Foundation

/audit • issues $9,000

Make the Summit easy to join.

The November 27 audit covered 213 URLs and tracks 53 findings plus five validation records. Summit ticket and sponsor routing remained open at that check.

Proposed scope

Confirm the ticket, RSVP, donation, and sponsor destinations first. Then address the Foundation supporter routes and local booking handoffs with their respective owners.

Delivery and terms

Up to 25 agreed priority URLs and app-listing touchpoints across both organizations. Three correction packets with evidence, proposed copy or routing, accountable contacts, and acceptance criteria. Coordinate approvers and publishers; publish and retest where access permits.

Two short weekly reviews, two consolidated revision rounds, and a final verification log and handoff. $4,500 to start; $4,500 on delivery. Invoices due within seven days.

The two-week window starts after scope, sponsor, paying entity, contacts, and required access are confirmed. Approval or publisher delays move affected dates by agreement. Blocked publication is delivered as a ready-to-publish packet with its dependency recorded.

Follow-on implementation requires a new scope and fee. Full rebuilds, native app development, legal review, production automation, comprehensive financial audits, and additional third-party costs are outside this pilot.

Thomas Ogg is available 24/7 for urgent issues within the active pilot.

Decision to start

Confirm the Summit registration owner, publisher, and response owner. Agree the digital pilot scope with both organizations.

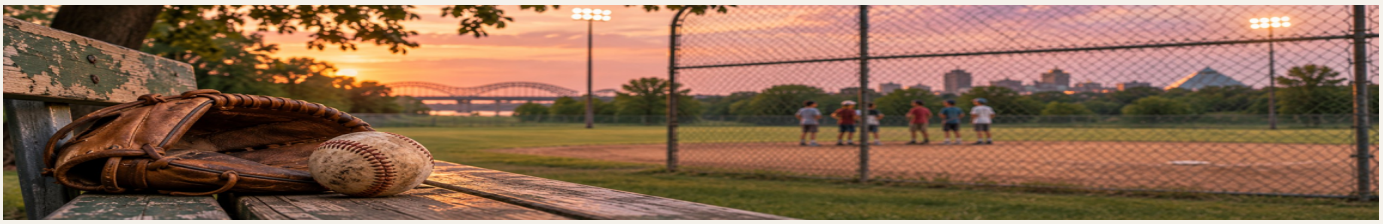
$9,000

A dollar at checkout. A place on the field.



Proposed scope

Test one optional $1 gift at a familiar merchant’s checkout.

Offer a voluntary $1 gift over four weekends. Report completed gifts, eligible checkouts when available, fees, refunds, and the actual Foundation deposit. Report donor counts only when distinguishable. Record documented program expenses when funds are spent.

Delivery and terms

One Foundation lead, one merchant, and one program. $4,500 at kickoff and $4,500 on payout reconciliation and delivery of the recommendation. Merchant costs, processing fees, and donations are separate.

CURVE Sports

/map • pins $9,000

Help families find the field.

Proposed scope

Use the facility planner to check local information, imagery, and enrollment links before extending the approach across the network.

The directory reports 29 organizations and 56 published locations. Confirm entrances, club permission, and profile ownership before publishing a pin.

Delivery and terms

Five facility packets and up to 10 existing Google and Apple profiles. Verify names, entrances, hours, categories, local contacts, photos, and enrollment destinations. Five facility directory pages using one existing CMS template, a shareable network map, and approved affiliation copy.

A baseline, light weekly status checks, a final 30-day scorecard, and a reusable onboarding checklist; two consolidated revision rounds. Up to two weeks of setup after scope, sponsor, paying entity, club consent, and access, then 30 live measurement days per facility and a readout.

$4,500 to start; $4,500 at setup handoff; readout included. Invoices due within seven days. Approval and platform delays move affected dates by agreement. Blocked updates become change packets.

New listings, suspensions or appeals, rebrands, bespoke development, paid media, travel, photography, and third-party costs require a separate agreement. Retain each club’s real business name. No ranking or enrollment outcome is guaranteed.

Thomas Ogg is available 24/7 for urgent issues within the active pilot.

Decision to start

Confirm the five facilities, club consent, listing owners, and access before committing to updates.
